

Lost In The World

Green River Ordinance

Summer rain falling all around you,
Washing all the doubts to the bone.
In the madness this world it has created,
Don't forget you're beautiful.

If you get lost in the world, lost in the world
I'll be there to find you.
Give your heart and your soul, heart and your soul,
fighting to remind you.
If you get lost in the world, lost in the world
I'll be there to find you.
Just know I bleed like you,
I bleed like you.

Something, somewhere there'll be a silver lining.
Break through walls you're fighting here.
We both know there's no easy way around,
But through you'll hear my words, ringing out.

If you get lost in the world, lost in the world
I'll be there to find you.
Give your heart and your soul, heart and your soul,
fighting to remind you.
If you get lost in the world, lost in the world,
I'll be there to find you.

Just know I bleed like you,
I bleed like you.

There's no higher mountain I would climb,
To rid you of the fear that rules your mind.
There's no higher mountain I would climb,
For you to see I am on your side.

There's no higher mountain I would climb,
To rid you of the fear that rules your mind.
There's no higher mountain I would climb,
For you to see I am on your side.

Ooh, oh oh. Ooh oh oh oohh.

There's no higher mountain I would climb,
To rid you of the fear that rules your mind.
Your mind.
