

One More Stitch

Green River

Pretty miss, pretty lamb
Give me a kiss, pretty miss
Look at this, tell me who I am
I want one kiss before she breaks down
Down down down down
Tell the world she's so out of place
Like pure white silk on a soiled floor
I need one kiss before she breaks
One last kiss, nothing more

Tore your dress on the cornerstone
Ripping a hole in your foundation
Such a pretty thing on shaking ground for
One more stitch, you'll come tumbling down
Down, down, down, down
Tell the world she seems so out of place
Like pure white silk on a soiled floor
I need one kiss 'fore she breaks
One last kiss

In his eyes, what do you see?
Touch his hand, what do you feel?
Anything? touch me, how do you feel
When you lead me through crystal waters
Lead me through to reach the water
Lead me, I feel not right, I feel not right
I pray for this love as

My reflection blurred, live by the blood
My reflection blurred, live by the blood
My reflection blurred, deep in the water
Live by the blood, my reflection's daughter
Live by the blood, my reflection's daughter
Live by the blood and meet me tomorrow
