

Disappear

Greenwheel

You don't see
You never have, you never will
What do you believe
These images are unforgiving
Jealousy always running through your veins
You cannot breathe
Here's your witness everything's not right
Where did you go
You forgot about all you've left behind
It's all on the table
And you wonder why you can't hurt any more
Your emotions just can't be seen in light
You're lost in here
You just disappear
You deny the pain that overcomes deep inside
You've kept it there too long
Grayest skies, answers bleeding through
Sunlight, cast its shadows over all
