The End

Greenwheel

Is anyone else awake? deaf ears on these words must fall dodging friendly fire, marksmanship inspires...

The end that is never the end there's no difference between foe or friend blanks in the chamber, they'd have you believe with faces so sober trusting souls decieved

Mouthless children, still promises they feed bullets softer now, still we bleed dodging friendly fire, marksmanship inspires...

The end that is never the end there's no difference between foe or friend blanks in the chamber, they'd have you believe with faces so sober trusting souls decieved

The megaphone speaks, still pulses race and scream things will be quiet soon, soon, soon, soon.

The end that is never the end there's no difference between foe or friend blanks in the chamber, they'd have you believe with faces so sober trusting souls decieved
