How The Day Sounds

Greg Laswell

Oh who would have ever known this? Could be this easy I was a long, long way off Then just like that it was over Everything I knew of love I was a long, long way off

And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song

Thank you for opening the window The sky is clear as my mind is now I was a long, long way off Join me in welcoming the sun in It's much brighter than the night I hid in I was a long, long way off

And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song

From a long way down.

Yeah, it's well worth the time that its taken to get here now Yeah, it's well worth the time that its taken to get here now

Ba da dum...

So go ahead and bang a gong Nothing can drown out the sound and the whisper of my love

And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song Through this new song

And the blinds have all been drawn I know where I belong, where I belong, Where I belong And the blinds have all been drawn I know where I belong Where I belong

And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song And I think I like how the day sounds Like how the day sounds through this new song

Oh, won't you sing along Oh, my love won't you sing along Oh, won't you sing along Oh, my love won't you sing along Oh, won't you sing along Oh, my love won't you sing along Oh, won't you sing along Oh, my love won't you sing along
