

Born To Feel Alive

Gregorian

I find it hard since you've been gone in the shadows of the dawn I keep holding on

How many times do I think of what we had that beloved day that rests in the past

Imagining how it all could be you're walking on the crossroads right beside me my thoughts rotate since the day you've passed away wondering, where you may be

We're born to feel alive
under gracious skies
recalling what you said
when you closed your eyes

We're born to live and die in the wonders of our time so treasure every moment and the love there is to find

Here in this moment I feel you from afar as i mourn and pray standing by your grave

And it hurts to conquer this grief to have no remorse stranding on new shores

What would I give to allow myself to dream to look into the future, without agony I see a meaning since the day you've passed away still wondering, where you may be

We're born to feel alive
under gracious skies
recalling what you said
when you closed your eyes

We're born to live and die
in the wonders of our time
so treasure every moment
and the love there is to find

We're born to feel alive
We're born to live and die

|: We're born to feel alive
under gracious skies
recalling what you said
when you closed your eyes

We're born to live and die
in the wonders of our time
so treasure every moment
and the love there is to find :|