Sun falls down
On the empty pavement of this dirty town
And I see you there
Wounded child
Lift your heavy eyes and let me pull you away

Come, come away with me Step across the fire Come into my heart Let me lift you up Somewhere

Everything is beautiful Everything is beautiful Everything is beautiful Today So don't let it slip away

Hold me tight
There is nothing more for you to think tonight
I can feel you here
Close your eyes
Let the heavy burden fall into the night

Come, come away with me Step across the fire Come into my heart Let me lift you up Somewhere

Everything is beautiful Everything is beautiful Everything is beautiful Today So don't let it slip away
