

Lie To Yourself

Gretchen

In your closet you're afraid
Trapped inside the mess you've made
That's the way it's always been
Through your rainbow colored lens

You don't have to tell me
I know you're lying to me

Lie to yourself if you want to
But you can't fool me
'cause I can see through you

You're so unhappy, but you won't leave
You count your notches 1,2,3
Tell yourself that it's OK
Lying in the bed you've made

You don't have to tell me
I know you're lying to me

Lie to yourself if you want to
But you can't fool me
'cause I can see through you

You don't have to tell me
I know you're lying to me

Lie to yourself if you want to
But you can't fool me
'cause I can see through you

Lying to yourself
Lying to yourself
How much longer till you see
You're only lying to yourself again?
