Let the Thunder Roar

Grim Reaper

The stage is set the time is right To let it go tonight The crowd is here and begin to cheer Rushing to the light Hands are raised and light a blaze The band begins to fire Taking us, making us Reach for something higher

Let the thunder roar begin To save us all Let the thunder roar begin To one and all

Lights will flash, cymbals crash Like they've never done before Chords are played, guitars are slayed As we let the thunder roar Don't forget, you can bet We'll be back again To strike the chords to the hoards We'll be back again
