

What's Your Version?

Groove Armada

It seems like the same song
Well, it don't shine for everyone
It seems like that same raindrop
Never fall on each rooftop

Seems like the same leaf
They never fall twice, never fall from the same tree
Seem like that same old wind
First come cool then warm again

Aah, ah, what's your version of things?
Aah, ah, what's your version of things?

I've been thinking
That everything is different every new day
(It's so nice)

Seem like I'm a brand new man
Then when the day began
Seems like brand new I'm gonna be
When the day is through with me

I'm changing, changing, changing
Rearranging and I'm acting strange
Seems no, no matter what you do
Life got away and turned around on you

Aah, ah, what's your version of things?
Aah, ah, what's your version of things?

Aah, ah, tell me what your version of things?
Aah, ah, what's your version of things?

I've been thinking
That everything is different with a new day
(And it seemed like deja vu, we were just out there)

Aah, ah, what's your version of things?
