

I wish that i could fly
Leave this crazy world behind
I'd fly far from the things that make me stumble
All of the time
These wings to my soul
Clipped every time they grow
Just one touch from You, God
And i could soar on the wind i know

And i can spread these wings and fly
The world can't hold me down
These wings are the freedom for my soul
No longer am i bound
And i can spread these wings
And show the world the freedom i've found
And if i can fly, than you can fly too.

The gravity of the world, keeps pulling me down
Until i can gravitate to Christ
I won't be leaving the ground
With the Father, my navigator
And the spirit, my wind
And with Jesus, my wings
I can spread him out and i begin to ascend
