

Water Wars

Guano Apes

Let me tell you about the secret forest
The waters running out to everywhere
Just never stop to ask me all your questions
'Cause you was born to see and take good care

So how could you go back?
Leave me in your trap
I guess the sun doesn't shine for you anymore
So how could you come back?
Tearing up your flag
I guess the sun doesn't shine for you anymore

Oh, let it go, let it go,
we don't need another wall
for your water wars.
Remember where the flowers grow,
blowing wisdom to your soul like cinnamon.

I wanna stay inside the secret garden
Colored flowers growing everywhere
It is always nice to see them shining, it's even hard for you to look away.

So how could you come back?
Close the fountain's gap
Don't you think the sun shines for everyone?

Oh, let it go, let it go,
we don't need another wall
for your water wars.
Remember where the flowers grow,
blowing wisdom to your soul like cinnamon.

For everyone, for everyone.

And when you lay on the ground and there's nothing you can leave, you've got to watch out.
They're coming back to get it all.

Oh, let it go, let it go,
we don't need another wall
for your water wars.
Remember where the flowers grow,
blowing wisdom to your soul like cinnamon.
