

No Turning Back

Gui Boratto

Take a chance in those wonderful words you just don't understand

I can show you the way but I know that you'll never be there

All the time, all the shine of your eyes I would never forget

All I know there is no time, there is no life, there is no turning back

There is no turning back

There is no turning back

Take a chance in those wonderful words you just don't understand

I can show you the way but I know that you'll never be there

All the time, all the shine of your eyes I would never forget

All I know there's no time, there's no life, there is no turning back

There is no turning back

There is no turning back
