I just about managed to forget you
When you appear in a dream
And you're even more beautiful there than I remember you being
So I've come to decide that fate
Is telling you to not go
And considering this
I want you to know

If the world ends
I hope you're here with me
I think we could laugh just enough
To not die in pain
If the world ends
It won't finish you
You're not the type they can capture
You flit like a fly catcher
They can't pin you down
Can't pin you down

In my dream you're playing with Buckets of sand And water was running through both of your hands And I dont think I ever heard you speaking Cause I was too wrapped up in the dream I was dreaming So if the world ends I hope you're by my side I don't think with you here It will be too much pain And when you cry Darling I wish you'd feel my love Your heart is way beyond capture Flitting like a fly catcher They can't pin you down Whoa, they can't pin you down Can't pin you down Can't pin you down Can't pin you down
