

Please Be My Strength

Gungor

I've tried to stand my ground I've tried to understand but I can't seem to find my faith again like water on the sand or grasping at the wind I keep on falling short

please be my strength
please be my strength
Cuz I don't have anymore
I don't have anymore

I'm looking for a place that I can plant my faith one thing I know for sure

I cannot create it
I cannot sustain it It's Your love that's keeping (captured) me

Please be my strength...

at my final breath
I hope that I can say I've fought the good fight of faith

I pray your glory shines through this doubting heart of mine so my world would know that You

You are my strength
You and You alone
You and You alone
Keep bringing me back home- on the tag
