

By The River Sainte Marie

Guy Lombardo

I left her by the River Sainte Marie,
We pledged our love until eternity.
Along the pebbled pathway from her door
We kissed and then we kissed again
And parted on the shore;
The Angelus rang out upon the sea
I saw her kneel and say a prayer for me
When winter's gone and spring is on
I'll meet her by the River Sainte Marie