Too Close To Tears

Used to be we had so much to say Always thought that love would last and time would slip away But now I'm only dreaming of those endless summer days And how they fade to grey Wish It was yesterday

One day we're gonna laugh about it Maybe they'll write a song about it But (now) I'm too close to tears Too hurt to talk anymore One day you're gonna meet me somewhere We'll look back without a care But now I'm too close to tears It's too bad we lost I don't wanna talk about us anymore

It's funny how a day can change your life You wake up and realize there's nothing left inside Nobody want's to say the words, it's easier to hide There's something you should know It's harder to let you go

One day we're gonna laugh about it Maybe they'll write a song about it But (now) I'm too close to tears Too hurt to talk anymore One day you're gonna meet me somewhere We'll look back without a care But now I'm too close to tears It's too bad we lost I don't wanna talk about us I don't wanna talk about us

Now it's too late we've gone too far We've lost that dream along the way Now there's no time for happy endings

One day we're gonna laugh about it Maybe they'll write a song about it But (now) I'm too close to tears Too hurt to talk anymore One day you're gonna meet me somewhere We'll look back without a care But now I'm too close to tears It's too bad we lost I don't wanna talk about us anymore
