

Cast Away

H.E.A.T

She came by, she didn't speak her mind
Just like many times before
But I could tell by the look in her eyes
I saw she couldn't take anymore, yeah

No turning back, I've got a feeling it's the last time
Should I stay or surrender

When the love is gone and you cast away
You feel like hope is gone, will be back someday
When the love is gone and you're trying to understand
Why the love is gone

All alone for first time
She's been away, yeah, far to long
I still have hope she would change her mind
I know that I was wrong

No holding back, I was taking love for granted
Now I know it's now or never

When the love is gone and you cast away
You feel like hope is gone will be back someday
When the love is gone and you're trying to understand

Oh, someday I might forget the way I feel today
But this time I'm ready for the change
I'm not gonna let it all fade away

When the love is gone and you cast away
You feel like hope is gone will be back someday
When the love is gone and you're trying to understand
Why the love is gone

When the love is gone and you cast away
You feel like hope is gone will be back someday
When the love is gone and you're trying to understand
Why the love is gone

When the love is gone and you're trying to understand
Why the love is gone, yeah, oh
