

You're Lying

H.E.A.T

I think you're lying
I think you're lying, baby
I think you're lying

Take your time and make your move
And give me everything you've got
I wanna know about the past suppression
Why you can push me to the vast questions

I've been waiting for too long
Just to make a final call
I put your person in every situation
All I get is slipping by a rap vibration

You eat me hanging up there
I'll make you talk
Put your back against the wall

I think you're lying, I think you're lying, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?
I think you're lying, I think you're lying, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?

(Enough)

Look at me, listen up
And I will give you all I got
I will be heading in a wrong direction
Wasting all my time on lovin' reflection

Like a hunter with his prey
I will feel you all this way
You should give me enough conversation
Time to say you can bring me a new profession

You eat me hanging up there
I'll make you talk
Put your back against the wall

I think you're lying, I think you're lying, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?
I think you're lying, I think you're lying, baby
What can you do? Oh

Oh, I've been trying to get to you
But all you've done is bring me down, oh so down
And all the promises we made
Has made our hearts to carry on

I think you're lying, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?
I think you're lying, I think you're lying, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?

I put your person in every situation
All I get is slipping by a rap vibration, baby
What can you do to prove me wrong?

I will be heading in a wrong direction
Wasting all my time on love, yeah
What can you do to prove me wrong?

What can you do to prove me wrong?
