

To be reborn again in the universal cycle.

Our action ressurects life ingesting his decent offspring.

My presence begets this life

Transformation

the putrefaction of the being living

To be reborn again in the universal cycle.

Full of electron I do relive elements.

the dead is the start of my life.

My role, the fragile equilibrium of this life.

I let off of everything and cut and dried part of me.