

Surprise Me Again

Haircut 100

Well, I remember the day when she said, "Go away"
I rearranged my hair
Well, I can't take anymore, I bought some natural food
And then I fell on the floor

Well, I can't take anymore, I need a change of address
By the way, why can't you smile?
She said at first it was great and in the middle I stayed
But at the end I was sick

I said, 'I've got to get out quick'

Then you suddenly smiled, you took me by surprise
You suddenly smiled, you took me by again

Well, I remember the time, wrapped up nice and cozy
She was washing my hair
Well, I was thinking of midnight, falling in love
Watching the rain fall

When we relax, I'm going to sleep on your chest
And listen to your beats
And let's go to Norway, live in rain and snow
And get totally depressed about nothing at all, really hello

Then you suddenly smiled, you took me by surprise
You suddenly smiled, you took me by again
You suddenly smiled, you suddenly smiled, again, again

You can't smile

Then you suddenly smiled, you took me by surprise
You suddenly smiled, you took me by again

You suddenly smiled, you suddenly smiled
You suddenly smiled, you suddenly smiled
You took me by again
