

Blind

Haken

Take away my vision
Shine your darkest light into my eyes

I'm blind to your obsession
You hide your weakness behind cold confession
Forgive me father for i have sinned
Just take a look what a mess your faith has put you in

I can feel no guilt when the eye of the storm is blind to what is wrong
Inside my mind
I once believed
Indefinitely
And i could forgive myself

Take away my wisdom
Place your darkest thoughts into me
Take away my vision
Shine your darkest light into my eyes

You're cold and i'm corroding
You're blind to my weakness for someone all knowing
How can i believe when i've not seen Just take a look what a mess my faith has put me in

Still i feel no guilt when the eye of the storm is blind to what is wrong
Inside my mind
I once believed
Indefinitely
When i could forgive myself

Take away my vision
Shine your darkest light into me
Take away my vision
Place your darkest thoughts into my mind

Now i feel the guilt when the eye of the storm is wise to what i've done
Inside my mind
I will believe
Indefinitely
But i can't forgive myself
