Bent Down

My conscience is hurting my ear But I'm happy as long as you are here I hide if I can I don't care where I stand As long as you are bent down You never said what does it mean I'm speaking the same words again But I will if you have to fall I'm here if you want me at all Just as long as you are bent down She feels I'm laid out for everything here She keeps me away from this song of mine I don't know why this won't stop Cause maybe it just won't stop But it will if I hear you call But maybe you don't care at all But at least you're the one bent down She feels I'm laid out for everything here She keeps me away from this song of mine You could be here Or you can be here As close as I can hold Together as were told We were the ones bent down
