

Sun Leads Me On

Half Moon Run

Well, I'm going where the sun leads me on
Where I'm bound to ginger tea and sickly dogs
Where I always disappear but I'm never really gone
Yes, I'm going to where the sun leads me

I loathe to lose anything
I've chose to refuse many things

Yes, I'm leaving 'til the sun brings me home
'Til I know longer lust is free to roam
And in this life, may I never be alone
Cause I'll be going 'til the sun brings me home

I loathe to lose anything
I've chose to refuse many things

Yes, I'm leaving where the sun calls my name
Where the skies shed their waves and cease to rain
I have gone, but forever I remain
To be changing while the sun stays the same
Ooh, for life
I'll be changing, but the sun stays the same
