Fugitive

A desert moon is risin' Down that road's a distant place A home where I have run from A town where I can't show my face

I put myself before you I should have known where that would lead No one had to possess me And make me into what you need

Ride on fugitive Running low Lone life as a renegade Ridin' on

I won't become that empty I'm too elusive for to find So you can't wait forever I'll never be the one to hide

I find myself in solace I am the friend you never had You vowed to be a stranger As I keep walking on my back

Ride on fugitive Running low Lone life as a renegade Riding on

And though my best is left intact It's so much harder coming back

Ride on fugitive Running low Long life as a renegade Riding on And on

Ride on fugitive Running low Long life as a renegade Riding on Halford
