Look Around

Halo Friendlies

Look around what you see is what you get in this life 4am city slumber city sighs (hear the cries) and look around what I see is what I got wasted years wasted money wasted mind (is this mine)

And I look around and I see the sight and I hear your voice and you tell me it's alright

Earned it all building castles in the sand blew it all with problems that I had chasing buterflies like they carried my soul hunger pangs fill this empty space

A stranger's stare is stranger than friction on a slippery slope of life's addiction tv gods won't help you when you're broke hell's angels love to see you broken
