Oceanwide

Halou

All of this love, it overwhelms me And now you want the distance Of an ocean between us

I want you to know
That I will not give up on you

I thought that you could meet me half way Figured that you could
I thought that you could love me
Figured that you d fall

All of this love, it withers within me And it  $\square$ s not fair, no, it  $\square$ s not fair But, you never said it would be

I thought that you would be there Figured that you would
