

Act 1 Act 2 Act 3

Hank Snow

The world's a stage, they say
And we're all part of the play
And you were only acting when we met
You played the lover well
So how could I foretell
That you would find another and forget

ACT I Our vows of love were spoken
ACT II We were happy as could be
ACT III My heart was broken
The play is ended Now the curtain drops for me

It's really very cruel
Finding out I played the fool
I thought I was the leading man for you
How could I know I'd miss
That grand finale kiss
And lose you in the end to someone new
