If I Ever Get Back To Georgia

Hank Snow

Well the wind blows cold in New York City along about the middl e of now

And I'm telling you I'd be a happy man if I could get away some how

Cause I'm growing old before my time finally I see the light But if it costs a dime to get around the world I couldn't get o ut of sight

But if I ever get back to Georgia there'll be no messing around If I ever get back to Georgia I'm gonna nail my feet to the gro und $\ \ \,$

Well the buildings here in New York City grow so doggone tall Sometimes you can walk for a couple of days and never see the s un at all

So I left last night I was homeward bound now I wanna sit and c $\ensuremath{\text{ry}}$

But if I ever get back to Georgia...

Well I guess my time in New York City hasn't been a total waste Cause I met a little girl from a social world and really put he r in her place

When she sold me half of the Brooklyn Bridge I hung around just for spite

And I played this part till I won her heart and I bought the other half last night

But if I ever get back to Georgia...
