Anniversary Waltz

Hank Thompson

We just discovered each other Tonight when the lights were low One dance led up to another And now I can't let you go

So tell me I may always dance The Anniversary Waltz with you Tell me this is real romance An anniversary dream come true

Let this be the answer To our future years Through millions of smiles And a few little tears

May I always listen to The Anniversary Waltz With you Let this be the answer

To our future years Through millions of smiles And a few little tears May I always listen to The Anniversary Waltz With you
