Don't Take It Out On Me

Hank Thompson

Just because you were hurt by someone Don't take it out on me Although I know you love that someone More than you ever loved me

You always will remember
The day he went away
Our love has left an ember
That burns your heart away

The love you thought would last forever Is now just a memory And just because you were hurt by someone Don't take it out on me

You always will remember
The day he went away
Our love has left an ember
That burns your heart away

The love you thought would last forever Is now just a memory And just because you were hurt by someone Don't take it out on me
