

It's Written All Over Your Face

Hank Williams Jr.

You came in with the sun this mornin' just as the rooster crowed
You started your lyin' and alibin' but baby your good times showed
Your eyes are battin' zero you ain't gettin' to first base
You ain't foolin' this old umpire cause it's written all over your face

Well your eyes look like road maps and your hair shore was a mess
Your make-up was smeared from ear to ear that wasn't coffee on your breath
Yeah the odds are gettin' heavy and it looks like the end of the race
I know you found yourself a new jockey cause it's written all over your face

Honey it's written all over your face and I can read between the lines
You found a brand new messin' place so quit messin' with this heart of mine
Well I can see you need me like a bum needs a cigarette case
And I'm thinkin' mighty strong about leavin' cause it's written all over your face

Honey it's written all over your face and I can read between the lines...
Yeah I'm thinkin' mighty strong about leavin' cause it's written all over your face
