

She Had Me

Hank Williams Jr.

She had me right where she wanted me
I was dancing to her tune
She always got whatever she wanted
And loving me was all she had to do

I am a gambler I ain't no business man
I was born a rambler not many women understand
But I can't be a puppet on a string for ya babe
If you can't lead or follow then get the hell out of the way

She had me right where she wanted me...

Baby I'm tired of playing your silly little game
I am not your boyfriend I'm a full grown man
Your good lovin' already had every woman at the back of the line
Hey all you had to do was love me but you just couldn't find the time

She had me right where she wanted me...
