

You Won't Mind the Rain

Hank Williams Jr.

Take life and live it, take love and give it
Do what's right and you just can't go wrong
Take your time and share it, take some heart and bare it
Take a chance before the chance is gone

Yeah you only live once, no it don't come back around
Might as well live it up, it sure beats living it down
If you think I'm crazy I'm proud to be insane
If you keep your eyes on the rainbow you won't mind the rain

Take life and live it, take love and give it
Do what's right and you just can't go wrong
Take your time and share it, take some heart and bare it
Take a chance before the chance is gone

Be good and know it, be true and show it
Take enough and leave too much alone
Be a light and shine it, so love can find it
Be a mountain not just a rolling stone

Yeah you only live once, no it don't come back around
Might as well live it up, it sure beats living it down
If you think I'm crazy I'm proud to be insane
If you keep your eyes on the rainbow you won't mind the rain

Yeah you only live once, no it don't come back around
Might as well live it up, it sure beats living it down
If you think I'm crazy I'm proud to be insane
If you keep your eyes on the rainbow you won't mind the rain

If you keep your eyes on the rainbow you won't mind the rain
