When God Comes and Gathers His Jewels

Hank Williams

The ceremony was over
A lad stood alone in tears
For he had just said goodbye
To the one he had loved through the years.

He stood all alone with his head bowed down As though his heart would break
Then the Parson came over and took his hand And to him these words he did say:

"When God comes and gathers his jewels All his treasures of diamonds and gold You'll meet her up there in heaven so fair When God comes and gathers his jewels."

Each night when the pale moon is shining You can see this lad all alone With his eyes lifted to'ard heaven He's repeating these words he was told:

"When God comes and gathers his jewels All his treasures of diamonds and gold I'll meet you up there in heaven so fair When God comes and gathers his jewels."
