

Behind the Curtain

Hanker

Time's running out my son
Realize, life has just begun
Don't ever show what you feel
Hide away behind your shield

They'll surely say my son
You lead a perfect life
Don't ever tell what you feel
Play the game, don't show you care

Fearing what you feel
Trapped between two worlds
Fearing what you could be

You've tried to cry out all the things you've kept inside
Yet you have become the prisoner of your own lies

Hide them, hide them
Don't let your feelings out
Hide them, hide them
The past is safe behind
The curtain, curtain

Fear!

Your lies, your lies!
