Sorry

Hanna Pakarinen

The reflection in your eye is revealing what's inside it makes me wonder, everyday that's passin' by am i livin in a lie can you feel it do you feel it where do we go what do we do you say your sorry say your sorry i put my trust my faith in you where do we go what do we do

can you feel it do you feel it like a well that's running dry like a devil in disguise should i forget it i can't watch it fade away like the word from yesterday can you feel it do you feel it
