

Find Yourself in You

Hannah Montana

She never thought that she would
Get her second chance
Running so far from all she's ever known

Convinced she lost all meaning
Where did her dreams go
Still she knew that there was something more

Don't be scared, there's someone there
To say these words you need to hear

Don't let anybody tell you who you are
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
Remember all you wished for, believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else, you'll find yourself in you

Sometimes people tell you
Be like me to fit in
Do you know your identity is not in them?

Don't be scared there's someone there
To say these words you need to hear

Don't let anybody tell you who you are
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
Remember all you wished for, believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else, you'll find yourself in you

Why should I measure the world
By someone else's design
Oh, I won't let this fly by

Hey, look over here I just found the real me
Now it's your turn to see
Now it's your turn to see

Don't let anybody tell you who you are
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
Remember all you wished for, believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else, you'll find yourself in you

You'll find yourself in you, yeah
Find yourself in you
