

Many Worlds Are Born Tonight

Happy Rhodes

If you stare into a flame
You'll get an eye full of energy
If you write your nightscapades
You'll get a dawn full of promises

If you want, then want a lot
It's the only way to be sure
Listen to what moves you
And let the moon catch your memories

The things, I forget when I need to...
I misplace the bandages that
I'm not gonna bleed through

If you stare into a flame
You'll get an eye full of energy

If you write your nightscapades
You'll get a dawn full of promises

If you want, then want a lot
It's the only way to be sure
Listen to what moves you
And let the moon catch your memories

Turn the lights down for a while
And have a rock with the solitude
Many worlds are born tonight
Because the needy is everyone

Because the needy is everyone
