Happy Rhodes

They say I've changed beyond compare
I've ventured far beyond despair
The atmosphere is different here
It reeks of gloom and valid fear
It's all set up, the way is clear
All the bases been covered
The time is near
And it was all so easy, cried not a tear
Won't be surprised to find my reaper near
Oh baby please don't go
I'm so tired and you're so right by my soul

And as of now my fate looks grim
The light is there but growing dim
And if there's a reason for my mind
It's been lost far behind
So to and fro emotions go
When life is done no tears will flow
For days for me are seldom fun
Residing I'm the only one
Oh baby please don't go
I'm so tired and you're so right by my soul
