

When The Rain Came Down

Happy Rhodes

When the rain came down, I was older than the earth
I could die right now, and plan another birth
Anytime I choose
I am in peace, in love, in harmony when the rain comes

When the rain came down, I was standing in the green
My soul was touched by every tree that my eyes could see
I am in peace, in love, in harmony when the rain comes down

When the rain came down, melded with my tears
When the rain came down, float away they fears
When the rain came down, bigger than the sea
When the rain came down, then came me

When the rain came down, there was no one else around
I could feel my feet being swallowed by the ground
Every step I take, I am life, I am life

When the rain came down, melded with my tears
When the rain came down, float away they fears
When the rain came down, bigger than the sea
When the rain came down, then came me
