

Rain

Harem Scarem

I feared the notion - I'd fall at your feet
And pour out my heart and you'll leave forever
Severe emotions and dark memories
They all end the same - a nosedive endeavor

But angels did fly and flooded boats sailed
To rescue my heart and pull out every nail
Things don't seem right since I've fallen

I'm falling like rain for everything about you
I find myself chained - thinking I'm coming loose
It's everything about you

A deep devotion has washed on our sands
Took hold of our hands and guides us forever
Holy water that some of us brave
They're poetic slaves - drowned by their conscience

Angels did fly - the loneliness fails
To capture my heart and push in every nail
Things turn out right since I've fallen
