Saviors Never Cry

Harem Scarem

You say that I'm lost You got the word that I'm going down Yea, it may be true It's like twenty-four tons of hard hitting headache When you realize that you're coming unglued I've sown and you've sown the seeds of youth Time won't and I don't conceal the truth So get up and fly away Or forever be in doubt You know, Saviours never cry You're hot on the heels of hope and love Dreams can never die Tear down the walls you hide behind There's just one thing in your life That you gotta do You wanna break on through Don't be kind to the core Easy to ignore If your lips never move You're bound to lose the war I know and you know There's no use Trying to hold back the years Making a career out of hiding the truth A new day is born You need to wake the dying The hand that it's in is yours
