

Maze Of The Past

Harmony

Sometimes I can see it in your eyes
You are carrying burdens from the past
Yesterday is hunting like a shadow

You're always awake so late at night
Cause dreams of the past
Keep you away from the light
You're wandering around, in a maze of the past

Memories, burning on and on
Like old stories
I wish they were gone

You know where you are, where you've been
Still you feel lost and alone
You know who you are, what to believe
Stumbling in the dark

I know you're dreaming of daylight
But your memories won't let it through
You're hiding in darkness that you don't know
In desperation, you search for a key
To close the door behind you
Forget about the past that binds you

Memories, burning on and on
Like old stories
I wish they were gone

You know where you are, where you've been
Still you feel lost and alone
You know who you are, what to believe
Stumbling in the dark

You know where you are, where you've been
Still you feel lost and alone
You know who you are, what to believe
Stumbling in the dark (2x)

You search for a key
Stumbling in the dark
Still you feel.. lost and alone
