

Nola Girl

Harry Connick, Jr.

Going towards the coz wave south of 59
Headed to the easy to see that girl of mine
She's a bit peculiar , sings a different tune
She took my soul and then she stole
The crescent from the moon

Nola girl what you do
Laying lies and then you turn them true
Nola girl how'd you know
Tried of leave I cannot go

Make you play your cards right
Make you call a bluff
She won't let you see much
But you'll see enough

Tell her maybe next time
Tell you maybe not
You don't dare forget to care
For the girl that care forgot

Nola girl what you do
Laying lies and then you turn them true
Nola girl how'd you know
Tried of leave I cannot go

It's like they crossed up Madonna
With the young Marie Laveau
She'll do anything you wanna
Beside of turning old

Sometimes in the morning
Right before the sun
She had satisfied you
But she's far from done

She put summer perfume
She'll dress and both your girl
Watch you go, you wouldn't know
She's someone else's girl

Nola girl what you do
Laying lies and then you turn them true
Nola girl how'd you know
Tried of leave I can never go
