I Will Take You There

Harry Nilsson

If only I could find a place Where smiling strangers knew our faces I would take you there

A place with constant melody Where you and I could wander free I would take you there

Seems like such a waste of time Just trying to unwind the facts of life If I could find a place, I'd take you Where the pain don't cut you like a knife I would take you there

If only there were time enough Or word enough, or rhyme enough I would take you there

If only I could find a place Where smiling strangers knew our faces I would take you there

A place with constant melody Where you and I could wander free I would take you there