Walk on past me Never say my name again I see though you Your lies will no longer stand Walk on past me Never say my name again I see though you Your lies will no longer stand Beauty fades What's inside shines though Offered all and gave me nothing Suffocation setting in I can't breath when you're around Believed lies I see though you Some how you see me all too well And there is no hiding behind lies If I could only run fast enough Now I'm running out of time Walk on past me Never say my name again I see through you Some how you see me but you see me all too well I see through you Walk on past me Never say my name again Walk on past me Never say my name again I see through you Some how you see me all too well And there is no hiding behind lies If I could only run fast enough Now I'm running out of time
