Hate

Solo: ATF Sinner

I am the one who wears black halo...
I make atoms collide, I open the gates of war, destroy divine sacraments! I'm a half-way god, my spirit is a sore, my rage is bliss!

Die and liberate the juice of my life, thy blood and spirit is mine, heavens feed on my hate
I comprehend the universe, before my death draws near, salvation is there, we're all buried at birth!

In our pain we dwell, destiny is leading us astray, benign coincidence,
we steal our existence,
once more in time...

Fire shapes our own destiny, the sea of life is a grave that drifts floating on endlessy, it comes, consumes, refuses to exist....

Death crashed down the shrines of ancient ones!

I bring death to philosophers!
I build temples of hate, I behold no god, I call heralds of pestilence- the blackest plague, in agony I become devine....

Die and liberate the juice of life, thy blood and spirt is mine,
heavens feed on my hate,
I comprehend the universe,
before my death draws near, salvation is there.... We're all buried at birth!
