

Another Day, Another Vendetta

Hatebreed

The question they keep asking me
How can one so young be so bitter and angry?
Well, the answer is plain to see
Just look around at this world that we're living in

Its die and let die, take or be taken from
And there's nowhere to run
Who do we look to, what have we done?
These times have taken the best from us

All I see is killing
Another day, another vendetta
Oh, there is so much suffering
Another day, another vendetta

I see the homeless standing out on the streets
On every corner, they're asking for money
I try to help them whenever I can
But sometimes I can't afford to help myself

I see diseases and modern plagues of our time
The greed of our leaders made them blind
To our problems, they spend millions overseas
While people right here are fighting wars everyday

All I see is killing
Another day, another vendetta
Oh, there is so much suffering
Another day, another vendetta

All I see is killing
Another day, another vendetta
Oh, there is so much suffering
Another day, another vendetta

Another day, another vendetta
All you can do is stay close to what is true to you
Stay close to what is true to you
All you can do is stay close to what is true to you
Stay close to what is true to you

Never let go of what you strive for
Hold tight, never let go
Never let go of what you strive for
Never think you can't make a change

All I see is killing
Another day, another vendetta
Oh, there is so much suffering
Another day, another vendetta

All I see is killing
Another day, another vendetta
Oh, there is so much suffering
Another day, another vendetta
