

Memories

Hatsune Miku

From that time on, many years passed
No matter how much I wish to return, I never move from this spot
When I close my eyes, you are always there smiling
Every time I remember that smile, tears flow from my eyes
I am not strong enough to say good-bye to the past and move on
Yet those memories are not flimsy enough to get carried away by the waves of time
That's why I've always...
I'll never forget, wherever I am
Whatever I do I'll always think of you
Even if I lose sight of the road I already traveled
Even if I cannot return to those days, the footprints on the ground will always be there
I will always wish that the day will come where we will meet
And laugh with each other...
As I go by the crowd of people, I thought I saw you
Even though I realized it was a mistake, I still couldn't believe it somewhere in my heart
I can't remember the warmth I felt touching your hands
If I meet you in my dreams then I would never want to Wake up...
Even if I tried to forget, the days I spent with you were so heavy
It's rooted in my heart and won't go away
I never knew walking alone was so lonely
The footprints that used to be next to mine were
No longer here... ?
The things I saw, the things I felt
All the things you showed me will always
Be with me no matter what lies ahead
Even If I fall, even if the road's gone

I won't stop moving forward

So please stay there with that same smile of yours...

I'll never forget, no matter where I am

Whatever I do I'll always think of you

Even if I lose sight of the road I already traveled

Even if I cannot return to those days, the footprints on the ground will always be there

I will always wish that the day will come where we will meet

And laugh with each other...
